

Anne VanderWeele has been working with individuals and communities to reduce barriers to self-reliance for over 20 years. She has experience in human services case management, public systems reform, and employment readiness for social work students. She is currently employed at Full Circle Employment Solutions as a Certified Benefits Counselor where she continues collaborating with individuals, families, and public systems to enable increased self-reliance. She has an A.M. in Social Work and Social Policy. Anne can be contacted at anne.vanderweele@fullcircledc.com.

