Everyone is Welcome

A Note from the Rabbi,

It has been a pleasure and a privilege to serve as Rabbi and spiritual leader of Beth Shalom of Whittier for over 5 years.

During this time I have come to closely know and care for all of you. We have shared many moments of joy and sorrow, discovery and awe, great conversations and wonderful friendships, all centering on our Jewish tradition. We spent much time discovering ideas in Judaism through classes, sermons and lectures, movies and social get-togethers; celebrating Shabbat, High Holidays and Festivals as the Jewish calendar unfolds. It has been my personal enjoyment to 'do Jewish' with you through the many programs and events I created, inspired and led: Shabbat under the stars, Havdalah, theater outings, museum and walking tours, the Israel trip, Hebrew classes, Shabbat at the beach, Introduction to Judaism class and subsequent conversions, Tu BiShvat seder, bowling, dinner with a chef, lunch with the Rabbi, Global Day of Jewish Learning and so much more. All these exciting social and educational programs were meant to help in my mission to strengthen Beth Shalom as a vibrant and spirited Jewish community.

On June 30th I will lead my last Friday night service at Beth Shalom. Please come to celebrate Shabbat and our community in song and prayer and stay for the festive oneg that follows. Bring your families and friends and of course your best singing voices!

Remember and know that my doors, physical and virtual (text, phone, email, FB...) have always been and will remain open to all of you. You are in my heart and my prayers, I love you and I will miss you.

Thank you for the gift of allowing me to be the rabbi and spiritual leader of Beth Shalom.

Your Rabbi,
Osnat

Rabbi Osnat - Thanks For The Memories

Hazzan's Notes

Now that we are post-Shavuot and into the "Jewish" summer months, we pause to enjoy our festivals had and spent together this year. In our tradition, the summer was always a time to relax and spend time contemplating the great moral teachings the books of Numbers and Deuteronomy.

The great lessons and parables all teach us how better to construct and reconstruct our lives to better fulfil our destiny here on earth. During this month, I will focus on these teachings in my sermons and study sessions to better prepare us for the new year to come which is only a few short months away.

Change and re-examination help us to fulfill what is best for us in the long run and not short term. We must always look at this in long-range planning and feel where it will take us to more appropriate ways of creating a community.

-- Hazzan Lance H. Tapper

Tributes to Rabbi Osnat from the members of Beth Shalom of Whittier

Rabbi Osnat, You have served us faithfully with intellect, heart, and a Yiddish Neshama. It has been my pleasure and privilege to serve along with you as your bimah partner these years. I wish you well in all your future endeavors and may all great, positive, and wonderful things come to you and your family in the months and years to come. B'hatzlachah, Hazzan Lance

Dear Rabbi, Thank you for the wonderful five years as being our Rabbi. Your warmth, teachings and beautiful Shabbat services will remain with us always. I wish you good luck with your future endeavors. Health and happiness to you and your family. Amen. You will be missed. Shalom, Klara Wein

Rabbi Osnat, Thank you for your friendship and care....it has been so much appreciated. Love, Arlene Norton and Shaina

Rabbi Osnat – Thank you for the dedication and commitment you provided our community during the past five years. We appreciate what you brought and provided to our community. Our community has been strengthened because you were a part of it. L'hitraot and Todah Raba! Jason Moss and the Jewish Federation's Board of Governors and Staff

Dear Rabbi Osnat, Thank you for being the best Rabbi anyone could ever ask for. For the knowledge you share, for the beautiful Services you conduct, and the love and care you give to everyone who needs you. Love, Hope Greenwood

Dear Rabbi—Thank you for all that you have done for me. Agnes Fuchs

Thank for your all your support and good work over the past years. Lila Held

Thank you for your years of dedicated service and devotion. Under your leadership Beth Shalom has maintained a vibrant and welcoming community and you will be sorely missed. Love, Ann Kanahele

Rabbi & Avi: Thank you for the many joyous Shabbatot, for your warm friendship, and an Israeli trip to never be forgotten. Myra & David Weiss

Rabbi Osnat, You came to Beth Shalom at a time when we, Beth Shalom and Eileen and I needed you most. Your warmth, caring, and dedication has always been greatly appreciated and will be sorely missed. We will not say goodbye, as we believe our relationship with you and Avi will transition into something greater. Thank you for your knowledge, time, and all you have done for us and our family, personally, and the Beth Shalom Community.

Steve & Eileen Baptista

Dear my Favorite Rabbi, You are one of the most inspirational people I've ever met! I'll never forget all our laughs, lunch dates, and an unforgettable trip to Israel. Thank you for taking the time to help me become a bat mitzvah at the Kotel and here. I'll miss seeing your smile on the bimah. Thank you for everything! Jacqueline Starkman

First of all, I am very sorry that Rabbi Osnat is leaving and I would like to express my gratitude and appreciation for all those wonderful services that she was able to provide. I enjoyed every study done with her on some Saturdays it was great and I will miss that. When I first heard her singing, it was very beautiful because God deserves the best and Rabbi Osnat is the best. Rabbi Osnat I wish you the best and whatever place you go please remember us because I will remember you. With all my heart, Isabel Paz

We Will Miss You!

Thank You Rabbi Osnat

It is hard to say “Good-bye” to Rabbi Osnat. For the last five plus years she has brought so much joy to the Beth Shalom community. Being a native Hebrew speaker, she definitely had an advantage in reading from the Torah and it was a pleasure to listen to the parasha when she chanted it. Her sermons were well thought out and always reflected on how the biblical story related to our modern world and our conduct in it. Her knowledge base was excellent, not only from having studied to be both a rabbi and a cantor, but also from her upbringing in an Orthodox Jewish home in Israel. Setting aside some of the Orthodoxy, she brought innovative ideas to the holiday celebrations such as visualization of our loved ones during Yiskor and sitting on the floor with candles in a darkened room during Tish B’Av. She did these things, I imagine, to elicit a mood and on Shabbat that mood was joy. We all joined her with our tambourines and maracas keeping the rhythm with her singing. She also brought innovation to the Shabbat service, believing that Shabbat did not have to be celebrated in the synagogue. This brought us our “Shabbat Under the Stars” either at the beach with music and a bon fire or at my house on the patio, much to the delight of my neighbors who enjoyed sitting on their patios listening to us.

Perhaps what many will remember her best for, is her warm smile and tranquil demeanor which were always on display to members and guests alike. She always made a point to engage people during the Oneg Shabbat and of course, contacted people who were ill or suffering a bereavement. She published her personal cell phone number so we could contact her whenever anyone felt the need to talk.

Aside from these rabbinical duties, she realized that many people crave a Jewish community, but are not interested in attending services. For these people she introduced the “Beth Shalom Bowlers”, led discussions after movies, organized theater outings, included Beth Shalom in the Global Day of Jewish Learning, taught classes, and brought speakers from the Community Speakers Program in Orange County. We not only benefited from hers and Avi’s connection with CSP in having first rate speakers, but Avi was kind enough to include us in CSP’s Israeli Chef Program. On Avi’s many trips to Israel he interviewed (and tasted the food of) many of the top chef’s in Israel and arranged for two of them to come to Southern California. The fruits of his labor were delicious.

As for Avi, he was the best Rebbetzen a synagogue could have. He calls himself “secular”, but in fact is quite knowledgeable about Judaism and its practices. I don’t know what we would have done without his help at the High Holy Day services. He was always on his toes running here and there to keep the service running smoothly. And he is always so much fun. We will dearly miss both Rabbi Osnat and Avi .

Good-bye and Shalom.

Rabbi Osnat Brought The Holy Land to Us

For the past five years Rabbi Osnat Margalith has been a most inspiring spiritual leader to our congregation here at Beth Shalom of Whittier. Her contributions to our community have gone beyond just leading services and holidays for us, she also came to our unique community and engaged us with new and inspired ways of looking at Jewish tradition.

Rabbi Osnat was born in Israel to an Orthodox family growing up in a mainstream religious Jewish experience. She comes from a family with more than one rabbi, as her brother also being a notable Orthodox rabbi in Jerusalem. Her traditional experience cultivated in her a love for traditional prayer and davening, and she has been quite passionate about sharing that experience. And her intimacy with the Hebrew language, her native tongue, also so clearly shines forth as she begins to communicate the resonance and the deeper meaning behind the words.

When once asked about this in an interview for Jlife Magazine in Orange County, she related that she knows that not everyone is coming from this point as she is. "It gets lost in translation," says Rabbi Osnat. "It is a matter of making a connection. Making a connection that can be lost when the message of Jewish tradition seems too hard to reach." Rabbi continued, "As a rabbi and a cantor with an Israeli background I look to provide people with a transformative moment through liturgy and music."

Rabbi Osnat first studied for ordination as a Cantor, leading Jewish spiritual tradition through song and ritual. And because of her strong knowledge in classical Jewish text and in Jewish law, she was asked by her teachers to further study for her rabbinical ordination. She was ordained as both Cantor and Rabbi, by the Academy for Jewish Religion, California; and is a member of the Cantors Assembly.

Rabbi Osnat has done some amazing things along with us as a congregation. She has helped us connect more intimately with Israel, especially through poetry and song. Singing soulful Israeli songs that bring the spirit of the holy land to us. Often delivering inspiration to us from her personal translations of modern Israeli poets such as Yehudah Amichai.

One of the things many of us have found most inspirational is her Torah study sessions with us on Shabbat. Helping us delve deeply into the text, through classical rabbinic commentary and reflections from modern Israeli literature as well. Drawing into our discussions the soulful reflections of everyone from Israeli bible commentator Nechama Leibowitz to the Noble Prize literary laureate Shai Agnon.

Though what is most inspirational about Rabbi Osnat's teaching style is how she gets people to consider and even feel the Hebrew words of our Torah text, taking us on a journey of reflection and in pursuit of new ways of appreciating the Torah.

Rabbi came to our shul and did a wonderful job at engaging a diverse community often finding solutions to the unique needs of our community. Among them, finding ways to better engage our interfaith families and our LGBTQ members. Working with Sephardic b'nei anousim in our congregation – conversos, who are returning to the Jewish faith; drawing from modern precedent and current halachic positions used in the State of Israel to bring some clarity as to how to better integrate these unique families into Jewish life. As well as helping several of our members convert to Judaism as well.

I remember Rabbi Osnat once telling me that what was so interesting about her job is that while other rabbis were mostly dealing with very plain "Milk and Dairy" matters, in her work with us, she had the opportunity to find real solutions to some really interesting challenges.

What I personally will always cherish among my memories is the joy both Rabbi Osnat and her dear husband Avi Margalith brought to our Shabbat and holiday celebrations. From the first Tu BiShvat Seders led by Rabbi Osnat... to the rambunctious "Who Knows One?" sung by Avi at the Passover Seder. We have made a lot of delightful and meaningful memories together, and their contribution to our community will not be forgotten.

MONTH OF SIVAN/TAMMUZ

	HEBREW MOON CALENDAR	WORLD SUN CALENDAR
SIVAN	3 rd Month 5777	May 26 – June 24 2017
TAMMUZ	4 th Month 5777	June 25 – July 23 2017

SIVAN 3 COUNT

Hebrew months begin with Nisan, the month when our people left Egypt. It is the way months are counted in the Torah. To summarize, the following events occurred during Sivan:

Moses, who led our people, was the third child in his family.

The result of three days of preparation occurred on the 3rd of Sivan, when we received the Torah. This and other events, such as G-d's voice heard by our people, is celebrated during the holiday of Shavuot. [1 – 2 Sivan, May 31 – June 1]

G-d divided us into three groups, who carried out the task of Kohanim, Levites, and Israelites.

SIVAN AND APPLES CONNECTION

The Torah states that on the third new moon (month of Sivan), our people entered the wilderness of Sinai. [Exodus 19:1] There they received the Torah from G-d. The comparison of Sivan to the apple tree is that it bears its fruit prior to its leaves. In Hebrew there is a word Nivdal which means "separate." It is part of some event and also beyond it. There is the comparison that our people went a step beyond physical freedom of liberation and became spiritually defined by the Torah, i.e., connected but beyond without question. Concisely, in Sivan we obey the command to act despite the unknown, despite how difficult those actions might be. Just like the apple tree, which bears its fruit before its leaves blossom. [Song of Songs Rabbah 8:3]

SHAVUOT

Shavuot celebrates the giving of the Torah at Mount Sinai. Of further significance on this day, we became G-d's "Chosen People," a bond which, please G-d, will never be broken.

Shavuot observances include:

All night Torah study on the first night. This prepares us for receiving the Torah.

Reading the Ten Commandments in the synagogue on the first day of Shavuot.

Like milk for a baby, we receive all our spiritual nourishment from the Torah. Therefore, a dairy meal should be served on the first day.

TAMMUZ INTRODUCTION

Tammuz, unlike most Hebrew months, is not one of opportunity for growth and renewal. It is a month of the forces of nature, a month of what can happen when everything being within our grasp and under our control is upset. The tragedies of the Golden Calf, Korah, and Roman occupation happened during this month. Also, a miracle happened when Joshua and our forefathers won the battle of Givon against the Emorites, when the sun didn't set for 12 hours.

Above all, Tammuz exemplifies that Jews are human beings and not illusionists. Stay tuned for the July issue, when you will be subjected to further discussion of events and the people who make them occur.

Yom HaAtzmaut: A Celebration of Israel Through Song

This year we were thrilled to experience the coming together of two area congregations, Beth Shalom of Whittier and our friends Temple Ner Tamid of Downey, for the celebration of Yom HaAtzmaut; Israel Independence Day.

The festivities came together here as part of a Friday night Kabbalat Shabbat service on Friday, April 25, 2017, celebrating the 69th anniversary of the birth of the modern Jewish state. Participating in this commemorative service were the clergy of both congregations: Rabbi Osnat Margalith and Hazzan Lance Tapper of Beth Shalom of Whittier, and Rabbi Dany Mehlman and Cantor Ken Jaffe of Temple Ner Tamid of Downey.

The entire celebration was delivered in song, including the sermon. Rabbi Osnat, who was born in Israel, drew from her memories to relate to us how singing together is something that is much loved in Israeli society. Israeli people enjoy coming together for group singing, and so we tried to capture some of that spirit in this service. Rabbi blended together selections of notable Israeli songs, all in touching theme about the holy land, coming together as a sermon in song.

One of the best things about this event, was the energy and excitement in our sanctuary, as two smaller area congregations came together with vigor. We often do holiday events together such as Purim and Selichot for High Holidays, alternating between both of our synagogue sites. And this celebration came together nicely as another successful shared holiday event for us.

It is important to note that both of our synagogues are also very similar in style of worship and progressive values, and we both have much participation by the Spanish speaking families in our area as well. So bringing both congregations together for services comes about very naturally, with such a heightened experience of worship.

The services were followed by a dessert oneg, and a sweet time of fellowship together.

These combined events are also so well received and attended, we hope to see more of these joint celebrations in the future!

BOOK CLUB NEWS

The Beth Shalom Book Group is continuing to meet monthly. Our next meeting is Tuesday, June 20th at 12:30 pm at Rita's home. We will be reading and talking about "Pumpkin flowers: A Soldier's Story" by Matti Friedman. In the words of The Wall Street Journal "A book about young men transformed by war, written by a veteran whose dazzling literary gifts gripped my attention from the first page to the last."

"...Friedman's prose is elegant and concise, yet it is studded with gems from the Talmud and Torah that only a writer deeply learned in the Jewish tradition could offer. His memoirs of his time in the mist and the mountains of Lebanon are full of haunting insights into what it means to be a soldier." – Prospect

Friedman's first book is "The Aleppo Codex: In Pursuit of One of the World's Most Coveted, Sacred & Mysterious Books". One Thousand years ago the most perfect copy of the Hebrew Bible was written and kept safe in a dark grotto in Aleppo Syria. It became known around the world as the Aleppo Codex. A fascinating read.

In July we will be reading "The Best Place on Earth" by Ayelet Tsabari. A book with eleven spellbinding stories focusing on Israel's Mizrahi Jews. The stories feature mothers and children, soldiers and bohemians, lovers and best friends, all searching for their place in the world.

You are welcome to join in the discussion and camaraderie. Call if you have any questions.

Spanakopita from All Recipes (on line)

Ingredients

1 large onion, chopped; 1 bunch green onions, chopped; 2 cloves garlic, minced ;2 pounds spinach, rinsed and chopped (I used frozen, melted); 1/2 cup chopped fresh parsley; 2 eggs, lightly beaten 1/2 cup ricotta cheese; 1 cup crumbled feta cheese; 8 sheets phyllo dough; 1/4 cup olive oil;

Directions

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F (175 degrees C). Lightly oil a 9x9 inch square baking pan.

Heat 3 tablespoons olive oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Saute onion, green onions and garlic, until soft and lightly browned. Stir in spinach and parsley, and continue to saute until spinach is limp, about 2 minutes. Remove from heat and set aside to cool.

In a medium bowl, mix together eggs, ricotta, and feta. Stir in spinach mixture. Lay 1 sheet of phyllo dough in prepared baking pan, and brush lightly with olive oil. Lay another sheet of phyllo dough on top, brush with olive oil, and repeat process with two more sheets of phyllo. The sheets will overlap the pan. Spread spinach and cheese mixture into pan and fold overhanging dough over filling. Brush with oil, then layer remaining 4 sheets of phyllo dough, brushing each with oil. Tuck overhanging dough into pan to seal filling.

Bake in preheated oven for 30 to 40 minutes, until golden brown. Cut into squares and serve while hot.
