When God asks a Question.

Gen. 18:14 Is anything too hard for the Lord?

The expected answer to God's question in "No." Which naturally should provoke us to trust someone who can do anything.

We ought to t_____ our God. How do we do that? 3 ways

Focus on God's p_____, not what is acceptable to others

Avoid being influenced by the w_____

Avoid taking m_____ into our own hands

Avoid desire for p_____ over purity

Focus on God's g_____, not what advice we are given

Even if it is from a good source

Even if it is worded in s_____ lingo

Even if the timing seems right

Even if it is with the b_____ of intentions

Focus on God's f_____, not natural reaction of anger

Avoid Anger towards others over personal s_____

Avoid B_____-shifting

Avoid R_____ from problems you helped create

Lessons:

Beware of being influenced by ungodly practices around us.

Beware of taking matters into our own hands.

Beware of the long-term consequences of rash decisions.

Trust God by focusing on His promises, guidance and forgiveness

Name one thing you are waiting on God to provide. _____

Your notes here . . . . .