Daily Prayer

Almighty God, I love you. My heart desires to be taken into a deeper, more meaningful relationship with You, where I will grow in faith and feel your presence always in my life. Help me to be more attentive to hear Your voice, that will cause me to walk in Your righteousness. I pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

Monday, 01/13 Hosea 11:1

The prophet Hosea describes God's love for Israel by conjuring up the image of them being a child and God calling them out of their self-imposed prison. How does this help reshape or enforce your concept of the depth of God's love?

Tuesday, 01/14 Hosea 11:2

Though God continued to beckon his people to love Him back, they continued on their path of separation from God. How often do you hear or sense God calling for you to draw near to Him, yet continue to isolate yourself from God?

Wednesday, 01/15 Hosea 11:3-4

Hosea, speaking on behalf of God, reminds the people that it was God who has cared for them, even when they refused to recognize His mercy. Have you ever looked back at a portion of your life and can now see God's work where you were once blind to His help?

Thursday, 01/16 Psalm 18:1

The psalmist makes a simple declaration of love. No strings attached and no conditional love as a response to God's grace. When was the last time you told God of you love for Him without adding in a "because...?"

Friday, 01/17 Psalm 18:2

In today's world, many of us put our trust in many things for our protection, the government, military, police, weapons,... But the psalmist reminds us where our ultimate trust should fall. Are you ready to have a spiritual audit about where you trust resides?

Saturday, 01/18 Psalm 18:3

Reread this verse again. Have you ever been or are you ready now to call upon the LORD?
