

Bucket Drum Metronome Practice Sheet

One of the most noticeable traits of beginner musicians and drummers is that they have unreliable musical timing or "meter". This is because they have not developed their "internal metronome" and their playing sounds sloppy, speeds up or slows down. Or worse..all of the above!

Practice this sheet regularly with a metronome. It will help you keep a steady beat, and over time you will find your internal sense of the beat or "Meter" more steady, consistent and reliable.

Begin by practicing at a slower tempo and increase the tempo as you become more comfortable.
