

Sunday Meditation

I once aspired to be a great preacher. I thought no activity more noble and glorious. I could almost imagine myself a sought-after preacher, stirring audiences, convicting hearts. But it wasn't to be. God didn't gift me that way. He knew best. He knew that to be a pulpit master would have been a great danger for me, and little help to Him. Not that I've been much help to Him as it is, but at least I haven't disgraced Him. God didn't think it safe for me to risk glory of any kind except to humbly share His glory forever. I still regret I wasn't up to the task; I still think it's the noblest of callings. But looking back at the possible dangers I may have escaped, I'm happy and content to be little in my own and in others' eyes. Just let me enjoy Jesus forever: that's enough. All for Jesus, Richard

LIVING HOPE

FOR HONDURAS

Living Hope has a new website www.livinghopeforhonduras.org. We have made this new site easy to use. Once on the website, you simply go to the bottom and click on "BECOME A PARTNER." There you can donate via a credit or debit card one time, or monthly, and you choose the amount. You can give whatever you are led to give. As little or as much, you decide. Please pray first and meditate on it. Let God help you decide. There is a matching dollar for dollar campaign taking place until December 15th. Please join us in donating to this ministry today.

Thank you to everyone who helped bless the lives of the children and families of our Angel Tree this year. Thank you also to Marie Noles and Julia Hale for all the time, effort and love you put into this ministry. God Bless and Merry Christmas!
