

Residential Buildings

Barndominiums are fast becoming a standard for housing and offer every amenity of a traditional home but also provide the added assurance of resistance to fire and pests such as termites. The construction of a barndominium is fast and more cost-effective, costing an average of 15-20% less than a traditional home. Barndominiums give you the option of building and customization without sacrificing quality of living. While they are made mostly of steel, barndominiums can include features such as traditional masonry, trim, sheetrock, custom doors and more. The addition of exterior features including porches, balconies and pillars makes the possibilities endless and at Pivotal Steel Buildings we can do it all – from the ground up to final touches on trim, we will customize your plan to fit any layout.

Benefits of barndominiums include:

- Quick, quality construction
- Flexible space
- Cost-effective materials
- Energy-efficiency
- Low-maintenance
- Fire & pest resistant
