About

Timmie the Teacher

Veteran Teacher, School Administrator, Producer, Talk Show Host, and the World Traveler is back as founder of New Fit World TV, and host of A New You. Timmie the Teacher's roots are in a small town in Mississippi.

There, a generation of relatives with a "mother's wit" for financial success taught her how modest earnings could yield a fiscal life stable enough to support all of her dreams, travel, and interests. These "financial gurus" taught her that one could live a good life on any budget; it's simply a matter of approach. As an educator and life student, she has watched many smart people struggle with their finances, and wants to teach them practical habits and advice that have made her financially stable.

As a contributing author to the book Stuff Your face or Face Your Stuff by Dorothy Breining, Timmie the Teacher shows ways to practice effective and easy money management strategies, leading to a better quality of life. With many years in the classroom, a multiple subject credential, and a B.A. in History and M.A. in Education/Curriculum, she is well prepared to teach. However, it is her experience as a "financial guru" (as her family and friends like to call her) coupled with her years in the classroom that prepares her for this new chapter in her life as host of "A New You." Timmie the Teacher show how finances affect every part of your life and encourages viewers to watch and share with your friends and family, and utilize the website as a resource to give and receive hope, help, and support to financial success. Timmie the Teacher's mantra is "Financial success is not a gift; it is a habit."

TV SHOW PROPOSALS

NEW FIT WORLD TV

Timmie the Teacher is proposing an innovative television program. Because our finances impact virtually every aspect of our lives: where we live, how we live, as well as our emotional and physical well-being, Timmie the Teacher is offering a new, fresh perspective on what it means to be financially fit: "What we learn is what we earn."

True wealth is having the resources to live your best life-- a life where you have more than enough to:

- Meet and exceed your monthly living expenses
- Save for emergencies and retirement
- Secure and maintain a lifestyle with little to no credit card debt
- Live an abundant life with fun!
