for Parents

Here at DDO day camp we thrive on providing your children with a safe and amazing summer!

All of our staff are trained in areas of animation, safety measures, pool side safety, CPR, intervention, and have a great passion for working with kids!

Our safety measures at our Chalets consist of a 1:10 ratio of animators to campers for Regular Camp and a 1:15 ratio of animators to campers for Adventure Camp.

At all times of the day, our animators provide constant supervision of the campers. When transitioning from activities, there is always one animator at the back of the line and one at the front. The animators always ensure that the environment is safe for the kids to play.

Pool side security: Our animators are always in the pool supervising the campers at all times and a triangle formation is created by our animators in the pool to ensure that the children are always visible. All campers are subjected to a swim test conducted by the lifeguards and life jackets are provided when necessary. Life guards are on chair supervising campers at all times.

Outing security: Our animators remain with campers at all times. Children are paired up using The buddy system. When transitioning with campers, there is always an animator at the front and at the back of the line. Our animators are constantly counting the campers.

When at the beach, our animators are in the water where they create a human boarder around the campers. Every 10-15 minutes our animators guide the campers out of the water to assemble in their groups. Wave pools are forbidden when on outings.
