MAKING A DIFFERENCE
ONE STEP AT A TIME

Happy Feet is a non-profit organization designed to provide school children with new name-brand athletic shoes. The Happy Feet program was launched in Marshall County in 2015 and benefits the students of Marshall County School District.

Happy Feet was started by retired coal miner, Jerry Baird in Union County in 2009. Since then it has spread to 15 counties in Western Kentucky. Each has its own committee and fundraisers to provide the shoes for their respective counties.

Eligible students are identified by the Family Resource Center at each school. A student's physical and mental health is a priority for the program. Not having basic personal items can distract a student from performing well in school. A new pair of shoes can build self-esteem and prevent bullying.

Marshall County Happy Feet has provided the following number of shoes to Marshall County students:

2015 - 142 pairs of shoes

All donations are tax deductible and remain within Marshall County to benefit the students of Marshall County. Happy Feet is completely funded from community donations. Contact Jerry Baird at 270-952-2006 if you are interested in donating or holding a fundraiser.
