Hop On Reading is a Structured Literacy Reading Series for Dyslexia, Early Readers and ESL Students.

Hop On Reading is a collaboration between Laura Barr Sargent and Patti O'Hare Williams. This structured and systematic method supports the Orton-Gillingham approach to reading. Hop On Reading was inspired by Ms Sargent's education philosophy and the void she found in the market for affordable and culturally diverse reading materials.

Each level consists of 5 fully-illustrated readers and an illustrated interactive reading journal all composed in one series. A family of characters engage the reader through the pages by providing humor and encouragement. The journal has inquiry and sensory stimulating exercises to support each phonemic theme per kit.

Laura Sargent specializes in teaching reading for children and adults with reading disabilities using Orton-Gillingham Approach and integrating the arts. She holds a Masters in Education from Harvard University through the Arts in Education Program, Certified in RAVE-O -Tufts University curriculum for teaching students with Dyslexia, Certified in Dyslexia and trained in Orton-Gillingham Approach - Dyslexia Training Institute also an Integrated Listing Practitioner- Integrated Listening.

Patti O'Hare Williams is an artist, illustrator and graphic designer. Her intuition into fun, engaging, and stimulating illustrations are a perfect presentation for the sometimes tedious task of learning the written code.
