“Marriages are not made in Heaven, they come in kits and have to put together according to the instructions.”

Marriage is designed by God to be a lasting venture, allowing the couple to grow together through the stages of life, and adding blessings to each person in the marriage relationship. All marriages need that time of maintenance, an opportunity to reconnect or revive the relationship, that every couple desires.

Without this maintenance, your marriage can easily grow stale.

It is a fact that the happiest couples are those who take time and re-commit to learning and improving on skills that will help them to weather the difficult seasons and create more intimacy in their marriages.

Sign up today, for your “Weekend with The Hubbards” and breathe into your marriage a second breath– you will be glad that you did!
