WHERE IS THE 'E'

Edgmont, the Township, took its name from a town in Shropshire, England called "Edgmond" (hence the one 'e').

Edgemont, the Post Office, either took its name carelessly from the township or created it's own name as being at the Edge of Chester and Delaware Counties?

The state charters for the township shows one 'e' and for the post office shows two 'e's, so it would take a legislative act by the state to change one or the other.....
