

Mary Beth King

Mary-Beth King started dancing at The Next Step Dance Studio at age 7. Her love for dance started with her cheer dance classes. She began competition classes at the age of 14 and has continued to further her dance education ever since. Mary-Beth minored in dance at Western Carolina University and was apart of the WCU dance team who went to Nationals. She has been teaching dance for the last 4 years at several studios. Along with teaching Mary-Beth has performed with local Charlotte artists and at CIAA. Mary-Beth's motto is, "You can't teach passion." As a teacher she strives to inspire her students to reach their full potential and push themselves to be the best dancers they can be.
