The purpose of a Resume is to provide a summary of your skills, abilities and accomplishments. It is a quick advertisement of who you are. It is a "snapshot" of you with the intent of capturing and emphasizing interests and secure you an interview. It is not an autobiography. Cadet officers should understand how to gear a resume towards a desired position, such as an upcoming encampment. Not only does a resume display your accomplishments, it exemplifies your attention to detail and organizational skills on a simple piece of paper.

As young leaders in the TXWG, you will begin to move up in positions with higher responsibilities and individuals who are looking towards you for guidance and direction. The purpose of a commander's welcome email is to instill the vision, expectations, and inspiration within the Cadet Staff. Much like an introduction, you have one email to convey who you are as a leader and the path you and your staff will pay for an upcoming activity. It is your chance to make a good first impression on cadets you may have yet to work with and a chance to reaffirm the confidence your staff is placing in you and your vision for the activity.
