Story and Toddler Time

Story and Toddler Time has been busy! The kids have been loving each week with their friends. Some have even asked if we could do it again after class has ended and their heading out the door for home!

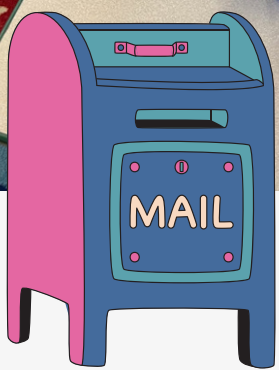

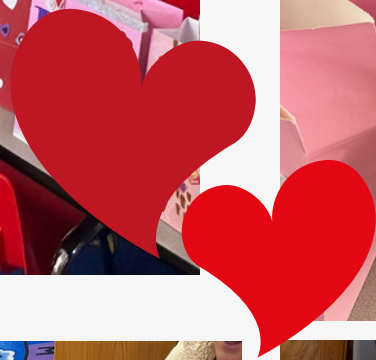

So far, the kids have had some fun lessons about penguins and snowballs; funnily enough, those two weeks didn't have an inch of snow: it was fool's Spring, actually.

Then we had fun with a football themed week to celebrate the Super Bowl (even though our Steelers weren't in it, the kids still had a blast).

The kids then got to celebrate Valentine's Day! We had the kids decorate a bag and then we passed out Valentine's to all of our friends while we ate Pizza and watched different Valentine-themed kids shows.

And last, but certainly not least, we had the kids learn about sending letters through the mail. The book had a kid send a giant hug to his Granny across the country and it made it all the way to her--she even sent a sloppy kiss back to him! So, the kids got to write their own letters, or draw a picture and "send" them through the mail to the mailboxes of their friends that we made.
