

Agate Girls Basketball Excited for Season

By John Sandstrom

The Two Harbors Agates girls basketball team spent Saturday at the Esko Jamboree and played three “mini-games” against Barnum, Cloquet, and Mountain Iron-Buhl. Coach Dan Lillegaard, who is entering his third year leading the team, said he was pleased with their efforts and excited for the season. “We are a younger team than we usually have, but we have some talented kids.”

Assistant coaches include rookie coach Rick Ray, who is entering his 37th year of coaching, and 2014 Agate graduate Laine Schraufnagel.

Senior co-captain Paige Haugan said, “I am super excited for the season. We had a great first week of practice, got a lot of work done and had a lot of fun. We have some young girls this year and it is going well”. Paige recognized teammate Mya Poe-Johnson as a person who is fun to be around and has “such a great positive attitude. She makes practice fun”.

Emma Leuch is another co-captain. The ambitious senior is a full-time post-secondary student at Lake Superior College and will be graduating in May with her A.A. degree in addition to her high school diploma. “We have three seniors and a lot of younger girls and so far it is fun. As a senior, we think about what we can do to make it enjoyable for the younger girls. We want a team that is respectful of coaches, other teams and opponents, and a team that is competitive.”

Other captains for the Agates are senior Isabel Tokvam and junior Karly Holm, who was second team all Polar League last season.

The Agates face Duluth Marshall in their first game on Thursday, December 2nd.
