Our Instructor Team

Richard Ten Eyck – Sandy, Oregon, USA

Born and raised in Oregon. Richard holds a BS in Animal Science from Oregon State University. His 33 years in the feed industry has covered all sides of the business including ingredient buying, farm store sales, nutrition and state regulatory. He is a Past President of the Association of American Feed Control Officials (AAFCO). Richard received a certificate of training as a FSPCA Lead Instructor for Animal Food in the summer of 2016. He served on several working groups that prepared comments on the FSMA rules and is involved with the implementation on several fronts. During the FSPCA classes he provides a practical approach to the GMP's and first hand examples of what happens when they have failed in the past. Richard and his wife live on the multi-generational family farm at the base of Mt. Hood.

Danna Schwenk – Greeley, Colorado, USA

Originally from Sandy, Oregon and graduated from Oregon State University with BS in Ag Business, focus on Animal and Meat Science. While at OSU Meat Science Center Danna assisted with building their HACCP program and developing marketing strategies. She worked for IBP Pasco beef plant (Now Tyson) as Quality Control personnel, responsible for sampling ground beef and then quality and biological testing of samples while being involved in HACCP team. Over the last 17 years she has worked around the world training and implementing new management software at feedlots and feed mills, while helping to evaluate current processes and execute new improvements. She received her Animal Food Preventive Controls Lead Instructor status in 2016. Danna brings a fresh set of eyes to applying preventive controls to animal food manufacturing.

Leslie Smith MS., ME. – Sandy Oregon

Education specialist for Feed PC Training Inc. Leslie keeps us entertaining and makes the classes more engaging. She holds two advanced degrees from Portland state as well as a BS in Biology. She has Certificates of Lead Instructor training from the alliance in both Human and Animal Food. Her farm background and FFA competitive team training make her a great addition to the team.

Kent Kitade – Sacramento, CA

With over 30 years feed experience Kent retired from the California Department of Food and Agriculture a few years back. He has been active with AAFCO on proposing modifications to the Animal Food FSMA rules. His experience with GIPSA and CDFA provide great examples to apply the new regulations too. He is a past President of AAFCO as well as highly sought after fly fishing guide. Kent holds a Lead Instructor certificate of training from the Alliance in Animal Food.

Why us? We all teach monthly so the material is familiar. We can work as a team to provide you the industry experience as well as a well-designed content delivery. After the class is complete you can call us with questions as you write your own food safety plan. We are also available for GMP audits if you need a second set of eyes in your plant.*
