Missionaries to Pray for, Points to Ponder

Missionary Highlight

It was still winter in 2011 when Terry and Dana Pickens pulled their travel trailer from Blue Springs, Mississippi to an RV Park in Dinosaur, a town of a few hundred people in northwestern Colorado. Winter there often has nights when it's 20° below zero, cold enough to freeze the pipes in their RV.

As missionaries, Terry and Dana went there to work with Dinosaur Baptist Church and with pastor Mike Wheeler to help grow the church beyond its six members.

One of the first projects Terry and Dana tackled was providing lunch to students at the local school. It is not a standard school. Nineteen students gather before computers for online studies guided by two facilitators.

Through funds received from Grand Valley Baptist Association and some churches, Terry and Dana are able to prepare lunch for the students and facilitators five days and breakfast three days a week. "Some of these little kids eat like they are starving," Terry said. He also installed heaters provided by Colorado Baptists to keep the school warm.

Let us pray that the Lord will keep these missionaries from freezing while they minister in His name, serve people and help grow a church.

SECRET SISTERS

The Secret Sister table is located in the back hallway of the church near the stairs.
