The Stigall Family

New Home Owners

“We were looking for a local company who had the technical knowledge and know how to design our whole house AV dream system. SpaceCoast AV Communications did a superior job at a price that kept us on budget...even with the costs of having our new home built. Dave Cameron and his team were professional, extremely knowledgeable and walked me through the many options I had so that I could make a quality decision with confidence in knowing I was getting what I not only wanted, but that would make my entire family happy.”

They went above and beyond my family’s wildest expectations and I HIGHLY recommend them to everyone I know.”

“We really didn’t know anyone locally who could provide a classroom AV presentation solution. We checked several vendors, and the description on SpaceCoast AV’s website looked like just the thing we needed. We could not be happier with the service you provided. You helped us determine what we needed and then tailored a solution that worked perfectly. The work was done professionally and neatly as well. After your first consultation we felt confident that we could move forward on a tight schedule and be ready for our deadline.

The owners are knowledgeable and creative. They helped us determine the best equipment for our application and made good suggestions for future upgrades. I highly recommend SpaceCoast AV Consultants.”

Reverend Nathan Mugala

Pastor

"We looked at proposals from several audio visual companies throughout the state of Florida and we felt SpaceCoast AV did not rake us over the coals on pricing! I was impressed with their commitment to completing the audio visual upgrades to our sanctuary within a very rigid time schedule. However, What impressed me most was their willingness and commitment to being always available and on site, whenever we needed them to be onsite for the whole process. Their professionalism and representation of themselves as a Kingdom Business was first class and genuine. I most definitely will refer them to others."

“SpaceCoast AV Communications met every need our congregation had when it came to the audio visual upgrades to our sanctuary. I give them the highest ratings on customer care! It is very rare to receive the level of service and care they provide in today’s market. They are highly resourceful. The owners always had the right talent in the right place at the right time. This provided a level of reassurance that was matchless and beyond my highest expectations.”
