

Violinist Emily Aquin is thrilled to return to Taos Soundscapes. She is originally from Ontario, Canada, and is currently located in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, where she has played with various groups such as the Dallas Symphony, the Dallas Opera and the Plano Symphony. In 2007, she was the proud recipient of the Donna Steinacher Bursary, awarded for talented students pursuing a career in music. Emily also performed in the Sweetwater Music Festival with violinist Mark Fewer.

Emily has participated in music festivals around the world, including the Stuttgart European Musicfest, Le Domaine Forget, Crested Butte Music Festival and Interlochen Arts Camp. At the Aspen Music Festival and School, she studied with Herbert Greenberg and with Sylvia Rosenberg.

Emily attended Indiana University, Jacobs School of Music, and received her Bachelor of Music and Master of Music. Her teachers included Ilya Kaler, Nelli Shkolnikova, and Federico Agostini. She is also a graduate of the University of North Texas, where she pursued a Graduate Artist Certificate under the tutelage of Emanuel Borok, the former concertmaster of the Dallas Symphony.
