It's a common problem.

- you look but you don't see
- you speak but you're not heard
- you listen but you don't get the point
- you're in relationship but not "together"
- you want to learn but can't

In each situation, you might get frustrated or find yourself in conflict with someone else.

What did you do?

- think you're inadequate, and give in?
- blame the other person?
- read about personality profiles?
- demand that others follow the rules?
- run away from the situation?

So...how's that working for you?

What if there's a better way?

What if you understood
how people communicate...

and then changed
your own behaviour...

so that by text, phone or in person
you both understand each other?

Then it's possible to have positive relationships with anyone!

The pieces of the puzzle

We've put together a fun, interactive workshop where you'll learn and practice

- how to create trust quickly and easily
- maintaining respect
- speaking someone's language
- basic human needs
- communication stances
- conflict and its resolution

Imagine the possibilities of a life with more peace and less conflict.

A little time – A big payoff

Whether you're:

- a spouse or parent
- in business or management
- working with customers
- in politics
- an educator or administrator
- a church leader
- involved in running an organization

You can improve yourself and your relationships.

Invest a little time in you today!
It's worth it!
