

2014

Distinguished
Speaker

ANNA S. JOHNSON

Sr. Manager

BDS Small / Diverse Business & Strategic Alliances

Anna S. Johnson is the Senior Manager of Small Diverse Business and Strategic Alliances for Boeing, Defense, Space and Security Division. In this role, she is responsible for leading the efforts to ensure that small diverse suppliers are considered for subcontracting opportunities with The Boeing Company.

Ms. Johnson is responsible for developing and executing strategies in support of Supplier Management and related organizations, regarding Government regulations and company policies as they pertain to subcontracting with Small Disadvantaged, Veteran Owned and Service Disabled Veteran Owned Small Businesses, Women-Owned Small Businesses and Historically Black Colleges Universities/Minority Institutions. Strategies include specific focus on innovative research partnerships and mentoring suppliers that are key to achieving Boeing's strategic business objectives. Anna's team is responsible for participating in the proposal process which includes Individual Subcontract Plan (ISP) development and deployment compliant with Government regulations.

Prior to her current position, Ms. Johnson managed the Boeing System Integrity (Compliance) organization for the Long Beach, CA division. She has over twenty years of procurement experience in the Government and commercial sectors.

Ms. Johnson is a Commissioner of the Los Angeles County Office of Small Business Commission. She is a Past Chair of the Southern California Minority Business Development Council and remains a corporate member. During her tenure as Chairperson, she implemented strategies to increase business opportunities between corporate members and minority business enterprises.

Ms. Johnson has also received recognition for her service and contributions from the National Society of Black Engineers Los Angeles chapter, Women of Color in Technology - Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) Organization, National Asian Business Association, American Indian Chamber of Commerce and Southern California Minority Business Development Council.

Ms. Johnson earned a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of Redlands and her MBA from the University of La Verne.

