STEWARDSHIP

Gratitude in Action: Our Way of Life

Thomas Aquinas said "humility is truth". We are told believing in God is to know these truths.

It is quite likely many in today's society will question humility as truth. Humility is certainly not something often, if ever, embraced. A friend tells me she doesn't ask God for the virtue of humility, because she knows He will give it to her. I always chuckle; He does have His ways of reaching and teaching us.

Other members of our society will say they do not believe in God; they identify themselves as non-Christians. What do they believe, or to what do they turn, or in what do they find solace, during times of distress or need?

Those who believe in God know God is truth and to live these truths is to live as both Jesus and His mother did, with an attitude of humility. It is a beautiful walk and way of life, although it can also be a lonely walk without companions on the journey. One must be strong and resilient.

"Humility is not thinking less of ourselves; it is thinking of ourselves less." (C.S. Lewis) It is not about weakness.

Father Jonathan Morris points out that humility has more to do with living in the truth of who we are in relation to God and to others. Wealth or our status in life makes us no more important in God's eyes than anyone else. God has created each of us uniquely in His image, according to His likeness, and for His purpose.

Saint Catherine of Siena heard the Lord once say to her, "Remember that I AM and you are not." (Wise words for our day also!)

Everything we have is gift from God. He asks we share our gifts, our time, and our love with those we know and those we have not yet met. We glorify God as we carry out His commands.

Our Mother, gloriously honored God with her fiat when she received the Angel Gabriel's invitation to be the mother of His Son. The Madonna of Humility, a name given Our Mother, is inspired by a style of painting depicting Mary seated on the floor and holding the infant Jesus.

"To grow in humility, we must be willing to take up the cross and pursue our God-given talents in service to others." (Father Ed Dougherty, The Christophers, IMC, August 18, 2017) In what service to our brothers and sisters, are your talents being shared?
