

MARK JANNAKOS

Mark Jannakos lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico. He is a retired Fighter Pilot with the NMANG, and a retired Airline Captain with Southwest.

He is a weekend aviation painter, and a member of ASAA (American Society of Aviation Artists).

Mark has won awards for his oils, and his work has graced the cover of USAF Weapons Review several times.

He has a life-long love of aviation, and expresses that love through art.