Judge's Commentary:

'The best part of The Spoken Word by author Gaynelle Whittle-Shipp is the research she did in quoting scriptures. This is a well written book. The discussions, prayers, and questions at the end of the book will guide the reader and help them to align their hearts with the Bible. Ms Shipp writes, "There is power behind the spoken word that determines the kind of work it will produce. Both the believer's and the unbeliever's words produce work. But without God, man's word cannot produce good work." ...She rounded up a generous collection of anecdotes, illustrations, descriptions, dialogue, and quotes. She lets the reader know why she wrote this book and stresses the important elements of her story. The readers of this book will be enlightened on a journey of spiritual awakening.'
