

CHEMICAL DEPENDENCY EDUCATION

A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO UNDERSTANDING SUBSTANCE USE DISORDER

Our mission is to build an educational foundation that defines Substance Use Disorder as a major mental disorder, because drugs change the brain. Our website will discuss the latest research, post book reviews, and interview physicians about neurological injuries caused by chemical toxicity. New Vision's Q & A page aims to reach out and talk to people about Substance Use Disorder.

I'm passionately committed to building a new kind of classroom that emphasizes brain science. The injured brain is a vital organ that deserves the same respect of any internal organ that is fighting disease.

Long-term drug recovery facilities that ensures complete detoxification, will be a big topic in our Chemical Dependency Education.

I'll include articles and research updates from SAMHSA, CDC, NIDA, HHS.gov, NIH (The National Institute on Drug Abuse) NIM(National Institute of Mental Health)
