Congratulations! Being recognized by your peers as an outstanding professional in your field undoubtedly brings pride to yourself, your family and your friends.

Your dedication to your profession, your abilities and your accomplishments show that you deserve this appropriate recognition -- being named to receive the 1992 Agricultural Engineering 50 Award presented by the American Society of Agricultural Engineers. I am proud to represent such a fine professional as yourself and to express my congratulations to you on this prestigious occasion.

My best wishes go out to you for continued success and recognition.

Sincerely,
