a distinctive mountain lake community

Nestled among the grandeur of Chimney Rock State Park, Firefly Cove at Lake Lure majestically rests at the edge of the Piedmont, proudly announcing the Southern Crest of the Blue Ridge Mountains and the start of Western North Carolina. Firefly Cove, with its rich historical past, offers its residents an unparalleled waterfront and mountain lifestyle. Adjacent to the borders of Firefly Cove sits 1000-acre Chimney Rock State Park, with its 404-foot waterfall, 75-mile views and the famous rock formations for which its named. And although secluded, Firefly Cove is located within 30 minutes of historic Asheville, NC. Breathtaking architecture, quaint antique shops and galleries, as well as diverse dining options, make this charming mountain town a pleasure to visit time and time again.
