A Note from Rick: Well we just can't get 2 weeks in a row with higher prices. Last week we saw slightly higher prices in several categories, but this week we lost about all that we gained. Slaughter prices were the main proponent of this, along with dairy cattle. Butcher cows have taken the biggest hit recently and this looks to continue for the short term. Dairy cattle continue their 2018 ways with a big supply on the market and very little demand. Bull calves were the one highlight this week with very strong demand. The only thing that supports this is the higher feeder cattle prices as of late. This doesn't make sense to me when you put a pencil to it, in comparison to live cattle prices. We are gearing up for a busy fall horse season and the catalogs are filling up nicely. It looks like we will have a lot of quality horses offered at TLA this Fall, from Standardbreds to Ponies to Friesians to Draft and back to Standardbreds and Dutch Cross. The Fall Draft Horse Auction is going to be a big one. We have a full catalog and the consignments keep rolling in. It is an exciting time at Topeka Livestock Auction. It's starting to feel a little different around here with lots of anticipation for the craziness that we all love that surrounds our fall horse season. Make sure you schedule us in. TLA is going to be where the Auction is!
