

A Holiday Wish From Our CEO, Lilly Donohue

Dear Holiday Family and Friends,

The holidays are a special time of year for me as I hope they are for you. It's a time when my family gets together, catches up and eats more food and sweets than we should. As a mother of two children, whose oldest will return home for the long holiday break from college, I cherish the time we have together.

While spending time with family, eating well and sharing stories with friends are what makes the holidays special and memorable, it's also a time when I reflect on my personal and professional accomplishments. I focus on what my colleagues and I have done well at Holiday in the past, and what we need to do in the new year to bring joy and comfort to your life, not only during the holidays, but all year long.

That's the magical thing: sharing our hopes and dreams with each other. We have an extended family 365 days of the year where we get to take care of one another and share our lives and stories. Like any family, some days are better than others.

Looking ahead to 2019, you always have our commitment to listen and to do better, to help you find your strengths and to live life on your terms, and finally, to connect your community to the broader community around you so you are involved and a vocal member of society. We value what's important to you.
