News Release:

OFS Solutions Expands Relationship with RAM Woodworking

New York, NY: January 8, 2016:

OFS Solutions is pleased to announce that they have established a separate division to handle the operations of RAM Woodworking. Recent conversations with major clients indicated that a high quality, personalized, yet affordable alternative was necessary to meet their custom woodworking needs. Ram Woodworking, a company that has been providing custom, high quality woodworking services for over thirty five years and has worked closely with OFS on many projects, presented a perfect partnership. Rami Waisman, owner of RAM Woodworking said “the professionalism, management and overall philosophy of OFS will allow RAM to concentrate on the areas that we are best at – providing design, project management and on time quality projects to our clients.” Over the past three months, since the establishment of this division, OFS has contracted to provide work in the new office of The Observer, providing custom furniture for the Crowne Plaza Times Square Hotel and Prudential Financial in Newark, New Jersey and specialty projects for the US District Court.

Burt Hochstein, CEO of OFS Solutions, said that this expanded relationship is simply a natural extension of the total solutions provided by OFS. “We have always been able to provide the necessary furniture, but we can now expand that goal and provide high end woodworking in both the corporate and retail environment. We looked at the previous jobs completed by RAM, some in conjunction with OFS Solutions, including corporate clients such as Barclays Capital and the Ford Corporate Office, retail establishments such as 16 Handles and Colors Restaurant and spoke to a number of the major real estate companies such as CB Richard Ellis, SL Green and Cushman and Wakefield. All of these noted clients spoke highly of the company and the experience.

About OFS Solutions:

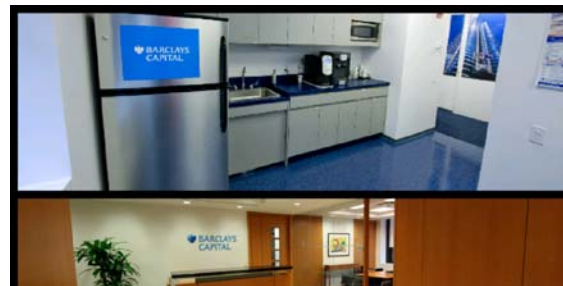

OFS Solutions has been providing office furniture and office maintenance services for over fifty-two years. They are the only furniture company in the tri-state area that provides a turnkey solution to institutions by providing all services necessary – this includes refinishing, upholstery, millwork, polishing, furniture sales and refurbishing existing furniture. Recent and current clients include Beth Israel Medical Center, TimeWarner, ConEdison, and Richline Industries (a Warren Buffet-owned Berkshire Hathaway). Office cubicles, office suites and seating ideas are available at www.ofssolutions.com.
