A Word to the Fore: Champions and News Notes Galore!

Heeeere they come--the cavalcade of newly crowned VCMEC World Champions!

Competing against other vintage customs from around the world (Australia, Canada, Germany, Japan, Sweden, the United Kingdom, and the USA), they've earned these honors through a year and a half of competition under six different judges in the 2016-17 VCMEC Online World Championships show series...an event so epic, we had to divide this issue into two parts to be able to upload all the results! (Be sure to see last issue, too, with the details on how exactly the numbers were crunched!)

In preparing this monster-huge issue, we also took the opportunity to adjust our publishing schedule to one that feels a little more natural. Our first quarterly VCMEC Model Horse Re-View had been in August 2016 and we called that the Summer issue, which made the November issue Fall and the February issue Winter. We'll now come out in March (Spring), June (Summer), September (Fall), and December (Winter). So that there won't be two Winter 2018 issues, we've revised last issue, February's Winter 2018, to be Spring 2018 now, replacing its previous version on VCMEC.org and Facebook.

Next issue will feature cover-to-cover coverage of VCMEC's biannual flagship event, Vintage Custom Model Equine Congress Live, which this year was held May 6 in beautiful Battle Creek, Michigan. In the meantime, check out journalist Nancy Kelly's four-page article on the show, which has just come out in the Summer 2018 issue of Model Equestrian: Horse Collecting & Hartland News! The issue is available for $5.50 postpaid (by check, or $6.00 by PayPal) from Gail Fitch, who can be reached at gfitc@tds.net. Thanks for the great press, Nancy, as well as all your help at the show and the get-together the night before!

A new live show for vintage customs--and vintage tack, too!--is in the works, thanks to longtime model maven Sue Stahl. Details are currently being worked out, but she's aiming for October 27 in the southeastern Michigan city of Troy...with the show to be a fundraiser for the VCMEC Museum! Wow, thank you so much, Sue! This event is sure to be a great time, so start making plans now, and watch for more details on the VCMEC Facebook page as they get firmed up!

This spring the VCMEC Museum was blessed with donations of vintage customs that we'll introduce in loving detail on VCMEC.org. Heartfelt thanks to Tracy Phillips, Shannon Rodgers, and Eleda Towle for entrusting us with these treasures!

Donators have been assured of this, but to make sure everyone knows: Any vintage custom donated to VCMEC will be here at the Museum for you to visit anytime you like, as often as you like.

We want to help people enjoy their own collections of vintage customs too, though, and learn more about these survivors, their creators, their history, and their value. Prompted by a poignant observation by Sue Stahl--"There are no vintage CMs without a story...even if nobody knows it"--we've started designing a new site, RemakeRoundup.com.

RemakeRoundup.com will be a place to record details and images of your vintage custom, and search the site's database by various criteria such as artist, color, breed, or mold.

Once we're back home, we'd like to also publicly offer our vintage custom appraising services. A venue for folks to sell their vintage customs on consignment is another possibility.

In the here and now, though, it's time to celebrate the world's greatest vintage customs and their hard-earned VCMEC titles for 2016-17--congratulations to all and their creators, owners, and photographers! Enjoy!

-Sparky C.

The Name Game: Some clues to spot creators

Before the Internet made sharing photos so easy and instant, model horse shows were the primary place that customized model showhorses or their photos gathered.

From reading those shows' reams of results, hobbyists often wound up more familiar with the names of model showhorses than with what those horses actually looked like. To make their ties to their work more obvious, some artists used certain prefixes of initials or words in the names of horses they created.

As a result, if you aren't sure who created a vintage custom but its original name is intact, that name might hold clues to help identify the artist. Here are some name prefixes in use before the year 2000, and the artists associated with them.
