
Addition and subtraction are _____ operations.

Example: $\square - \square = \square$

Is there a way to use the same numbers to make an addition sentence?

$$\square + \square = \square$$

Working a _____ problem in the opposite direction creates an _____ problem. Working an _____ problem in the opposite direction creates a _____ problem. That is why addition and subtraction are _____ operations.