• WELCOME, FR. ADAM!

The journey to priesthood begins within a family and within a faith community. Our faith community was lucky to be able to share in Fr. Adam's journey when he spent part of the summer of 2015 with us.

We are thrilled for his vocation and for his humble and enthusiastic response to God's call. What a privilege to have him lead us in prayer this weekend.

Thank you for your generous response to this year's collection. If you were out of town, or couldn't make a contribution last weekend, you may send your kind gift to the parish or put it in the collection basket with designation for the priests' retirement fund.

• PRIEST JUBILEES

Fr. Pat O'Connor was honored for 40 years of priesthood, and Fr. Mike Maher on his 70th year of ordained ministry at the annual Jubilee Mass and Dinner held for our priests.

• NEW ORLEANS

I've had many questions about my niece's wedding in New Orleans. I mentioned that one of the most surprising and enjoyable events was parading with a jazz band through some of the neighborhoods near the church. It is a New Orleans tradition and it was delightful. It is called a "second line" since the participants follow the band which for the first line. There is a police escort and neighbors along the way cheer or join in.

I went to a very old church on Sunday. It is a Jesuit parish and one of the oldest in New Orleans. It was huge and filled with beauty.

New Orleans is a very welcoming city and is very rich with diversity. The streets are full of people, but everyone seemed relaxed. If you go, take a little extra cash and be prepared for good food and hospitality.

Oh, yes, the wedding was beautiful!

Blessings!
Fr. David

Stewardship Reflection

"...Behold, one is coming after me; I am not worthy to unfasten the sandals of his feet." – ACTS 13:25

Stewardship is a lifestyle, it's not a program or a process. It's how we are called to live our lives twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week! It challenges us to live "God-centered" lives, not "self-centered" lives. Reflect on your daily activities, do you do them for the glory of God or for the glory of your own name?

Something New

John the Baptist said he was making way for someone greater, and over the centuries Christians have tended to take him at his word, maybe a little too much so, seeing him as a figure who played his part and exited stage left. To think of him this way, though, is to make him into exactly the opposite of what he stood for: a radically new way to relate to God.

True, in a sense John dressed and acted like a prophet, but he rejected a key aspect of the tradition from which he came. He was not to be Zechariah Jr., the son who would carry on the family Temple priesthood business. Piety, birth, and the prestige of institutional religion weren't enough to get you saved, John was saying. Being a member of the people whom God led across the Jordan River didn't mean you needn't immerse yourself in it again.

No, what you needed was repentance—turning away from your old life and going out to meet God's judgment now.

"Christians are made, not born," said the early church figure Tertullian. To be a Christian is to be reborn, to begin again, to seek a new righteousness with God.

Of this message, John the Baptist was a prophet. Joel Schorn
