

Lighthouse Quilters Guild

Sew on and Sew Forth

We are at last on track for in-person meetings. Our first in two plus years will be held in Fellowship Hall, Lutheran Church of the Resurrection. Looking forward to seeing all of you but hope that many of you can attend. The church follows the guidelines of the city. Check your mail closer to May 23 to see if there any changes to this schedule.

If for any reason you are running a bit late, a sign will be posted on the entry door with a telephone number of a guild member that you may call to gain entry to the building. All doors will be locked during the meeting. Masks are optional. There will be some masks available in case you forgot yours and are in need of one.

Nancy Fenske is in need of a Hospitality co-chair to help her get through the next four meetings and the holiday party. Please contact me or her directly and say you will help.

Until next month.....Take your needle and work at your pattern. Life is like that – one stitch at a time taken patiently and it will all come out all right.

Rebecca Lidstrom is the founder and creative force behind Studio R Quilts. She is an enthusiastic quilter, designer, and instructor. Rebecca made her first quilt in 2004 and immediately fell in love with all things quilting.

A simple design aesthetic combined with color, texture, and traditional quilt blocks is what defines Rebecca's patterns. She takes the intimidation factor out of the quilt making process and believes regardless of skill level, anyone can make a quilt.

Helping others discover and enjoy quilting is a passion for Rebecca. She is excited to be part of the wonderful quilting community and share her knowledge with others. Rebecca is a member of the Madison Modern Quilt Guild, Mad City Quilt Guild and the Lodi Valley Quilt Guild.

Rebecca is excited to be designing her own line of quilt patterns and sharing them with the quilting community. She creates from her studio in Madison, WI.

Lighthouse Quilters Guild

Guild Meeting

April 25, 2022

Zoom Virtual Meeting

Forty-three Guild members welcomed Heather Kojan from Owens Mills, Maryland. Heather gave an inspiring and thought-provoking lecture on what can be done with UFO's and orphan blocks. Heather's patterns and blog can be reached at: heatherkojan.com.

At the business meeting, Pat Henningfeld announced that the Guild will finally be able to meet in person at the church in May. The meeting will also be available on zoom. The church will charge a fee of $60 per Guild meeting and $40 per workshop.

At the church, there are no restrictions on the number of people who can attend, masks are optional, and there are no restrictions on serving food or beverages at this time. The church will continue to follow city of Racine guidelines on Covid safety.

The janitor will be able to do set-up and takedown of tables and chairs, and the building must be vacated by 10 pm. As in the past, the church doors will be locked, but someone will be available to let members in until 7 pm. After 7, a phone number will be posted on the door, and someone will come to let you in.

Name pins are available to guild members and may be ordered for $4.50 (prepaid). For more information or to order, see Pat Henningfeld.

Hello, Lighthouse Quilters Guild members! *Have I got a show for you!

Kitty Friend and I are training to become certified as quilt show judges. This involves a training class in St. Cloud, MN, in June, observing the judging at several local and regional shows, performing the judging at a show, taking a written exam, and completing a mock judging before a panel of other certified judges. To fulfil the requirement of judging a show on my own the Guild is providing me with a venue and some enthusiastic quilters as contestants! That includes YOU!

Please consider entering some quilts into this special picnic quilt show. There is a category for first time show entrants, so this is an opportunity for those of you that have never entered in a show before to give it a try. Don't be shy! I'll be performing the judging at the picnic, so you may observe the judging and you can take your items home the same day. I'll even have ribbons for the winners! Sorry, no prize money, but you will have bragging rights.

Please note that I have created a separate class for charity quilts. Hopefully you have worked up a few during our in-person meeting hiatus and would consider entering one in this class for some special recognition. I hope that we will get lots of entries in this special category!

Complete Show Rules are on Page 7
