General notes and information

Last week I was asked what the ruling is when an object ball is knocked off the table.

I gave the wrong information. Thankfully, it did not affect the outcome of the match.

The correct ruling when an object ball is knocked off the table is as follows, SPOT the object ball onto the foot spot or just below any ball(s) that are occupying the foot spot. Knocking an object ball off the table is a foul that results in a ball in hand for the opponent.

This brings up an addition situation. If a shooter accidentally uses an object ball as the cue ball it is a ball in hand foul. Additionally, if the shooter sinks one of their own object balls the object ball comes back up and gets placed on the foot spot or just below any ball(s) that are occupying the foot spot.
