What's Been Happening?

The month of November has gone by so fast. We read about the oceans and the creatures that reside in them and also expanded our knowledge of all animals, mammals and amphibians. The children explored different textures, such as, bubble wrap, pumpkin goo, sand paint and the sticky side of tape. As the children begin to practice walking and being more interactive with each other, we will continue discussing and modeling gentle touches and sharing with each other.

Sincerely,
Sara Farrish

It's December! What Are We Going To Do?

This month we will be learning about cold weather and the differences between "cold" and "hot". Since most of our children are walking, we can bring in our parachute. The children will work on their large and fine motor skills by holding the parachute and throwing it up in the air. We will continue to work on our balance and coordination.
