Cognitive Factors and Pitfalls in Medical Decision Making: How to Effectively Improve Patient Care and Safety

Wednesday, 18 October

Half Day Workshop

0900 – 1230 & 1300 – 1630

The objective is to provide cognitive knowledge and stimulate the participants to think about patient care and safety from a cognitive perspective, and to present some of the latest ideas and innovations in this area. This workshop will bridge theory and practice, and suggest practical ways to better train and increase the quality of decision making and to enhance patient care.

Cost: $450 AUD *
