The use of markers helps standardize patterns and guide exhibitors, but they also increase the degree of difficulty somewhat, so their placement should be carefully planned and indicated in the posted pattern and their placement in the arena well supervised. All patterns must be posted by the judge at least one hour before the beginning of the class, or may be posted the first day of the multi-day show. It is permissible for a judge, if he or she so desires, to ask (in Showmanship Class) the contestants questions concerning horsemanship and conformation. Questions should be in accordance with the contestant's age and knowledge potential.

CATTLE USE CLASSES

Riders shall wear western attire, including a western hat, western boots, and along sleeved shirt with the sleeves being fastened around the wrist. The use of spurs, chaps, or similar gear, and the carrying of the rope or reata are optional. The flagger is the judge in all timed events and their decisions are final. All timed events shall have two or more stop watches or an electric eye. If an electric eye is used, one backup watch is required. The show management will select the flagger. The available facility will govern the barrier procedure.

CATTLE PENNING

GOAL: To get three head of cattle in a pen, set up in the arena, in the shortest time. If no team gets three head in, the team with the fastest time on two head wins. If no team gets two head in, the team with the fastest time on one head wins. There will be a three minute time limit. The number of contestants and the distribution of cattle shall be left to the discretion of the show committee. Time shall end when one member of the team raises their hand and is guarding the gate with the cattle in the pen. Only one team member is allowed in the pen as to not crowd the cattle. A flagger shall be used to start and end the time and it will be the decision of the flagger to distinguish whether or not the rider is guarding the gate. The show committee will decide the number of runs any one exhibitor is allowed.

TEAM ROPING

Any animal can run only once for points and shall be so designated to the timer before roping the steer.

There shall be three legal head catches; horns, half head, full head. A five (5) second penalty for catching one (1) hind leg, a ten (10) second penalty for breaking the barrier, will be applied to total time. Each team is limited to two (2) loops or two (2) minutes. Dally or hard and fast, optional. The mule can compete only once in the steer stopping class.

A chute judge is required.

STEER DAUBING

This event is judged on time only. Fastest time wins. Cattle will be drawn for. Exhibitor may ride one or more animals. Time will start when the barrier is sprung and will stop when the contestant raises his lance aloft signaling that he has marked the animal.

The contestant will use a "lance" furnished by the show management, approximately 6 feet long, padded on one end and soaked in washable paint or white wash. A broken or dropped lance is cause for disqualification from the class.

A target zone is from flank to flank, starting from a point just in front of the hip bone and below the back bone toward the rib cage, covering the rumen cavity.

The object of this even is for the rider to get to the steer and "daub" his lance into the target zone, the same as if he were actually spearing the animal. One touch allowed per steer. There will be one minute time limit on this event, to prevent needless chasing of the steer. If the rider misses the target zone and marks outside of it he will automatically be disqualified.

Mule may enter one once.

SPECIALTY

Classes will be governed by the individual class rules. All contestants will be made aware of the rules prior to entering the arena.

LADIES SIDE SADDLE

Tack and attire must be compatible. Period costumes are welcome as they are popular with the spectators, but no special consideration will be given to a flashy costume over a neat modest Western or English turnout.

A. Class Routine: Animals shall enter the ring counter clockwise at a trot or jog and work both directions at the walk, trot or jog, and canter or lope. A good ground covering walk, a comfortable trot or jog, and easy flowing canter or lope are desired gaits. Animals are to be reversed at the walk or trot, but shall not be reversed at the lope or canter. Riders shall not be asked to dismount.

B. Judging Considerations: Transitions from one gait to another should be smooth and effortless. Riders with English tack and attire may sit or post the trot. Mules should stand quietly and back readily if requested by the judge.

1. The side saddle mule should have gaits that give the distinct impression that it is a comfortable mount to ride.
2. Manners and suitability of purpose shall be emphasized.
3. Class to be judged as 75% on performance, manners and way of going, 25% on appointments and overall appearance.

C. Appointments: Safety is of the utmost importance in both tack and attire. Judges should penalize exhibitors not conforming to good safety practices. All sidesaddles are required to be in safe rideable condition, whether in original condition or renovated. Leaping pommels are required for saddles. Balance straps are recommended on appropriate side saddles.

1. Tack- Mule should be tacked up in appropriate side saddle of either an English or Western style. Bridles should be appropriate to style of the saddle and only regulation bits may be used. No martingales or tie downs allowed. Appropriate whip or crop may be carried. A spur is optional. Formal hunt seat riders will need proper appointments.
2. Attire – English (formal or informal) hunt or saddle seat, or Western (Western consisting of a long sleeve blouse or shirt, a coat or vest, skirt or apron, hat and boots).

COSTUME

in some country, work of literature or art, or in some occupation or sport, past or present.

3. Starting load will be the weight of the team rounded off to the nearest 100 pounds. The load must be pulled 10 feet to constitute a pull. Three (3) attempts are allowed.

4. Teams that are not under control, and may endanger the safety of others may be disqualified.
