Dear Shelby,

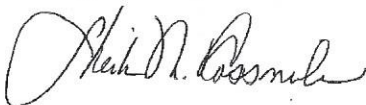

At our Scholars & Donors recognition event in November, 168 scholarships totaling more than $93,000 were awarded to NTC students. Thank you for your part in making that happen!

As we continually seek ways to improve the scholarship experience for all involved, we initiated a new on-line scholarship management system this past semester. The online application was a success and we received 200 more applications than in this same period last year. The new system allowed references and reviewers to use the online process, improving efficiency for them as well. And, finally, it helped ensure even greater accuracy in matching students to available scholarships in order to better serve the wishes of our donors.

As part of the new process, students were required to submit their thank you letters directly to the Foundation, for us to pass along to the donors, rather than having us share donor contact information with them. The words of our students are more powerful in expressing thankfulness than anything else we could say. The thank you message from your student, Samantha Rebman, is enclosed.

Thank you for partnering with the NTC Foundation. Your generous spirit provides our NTC students with the support and encouragement they need to succeed.

With gratitude,

Dear Donors of the Theodore Gerbig Organ & Tissue Donation Awareness Scholarship,

As a future healthcare provider, I am honored to be one of the recipients of the Theodore Gerbig Organ & Tissue Donation Awareness Scholarship. Thank you for your generous support as I am a nontraditional student and have found college to be financially possible due to donors such as yourself. Being a future nurse who plans to reside in the Central Wisconsin Area; I am proud to provide care and services to your donors and their recipients.

Growing up in a less privileged community has not only offered me financially and academic difficulties but has helped me realize the value of a college education.

Currently, I am in the midst of my second semester of Nursing school at Northcentral Technical College in Wausau, WI and I can already tell you that my academics are off to a first-class start. Northcentral Technical College offers one of the finest Nursing programs in the state of Wisconsin, including holding one of the highest board pass-rates. I consider myself fortunate to be able to attend.

Please pass along my gratitude to the members of the Theodore Gerbig Organ & Tissue Donation Team as I appreciate their contribution to this scholarship.

Sincerely,
Samantha Rebman
