Musician of the Month

Alexandria Kellett

Alexandria Kellett (best known as Lexy) is an artist and singer based out of Reynoldsburg, but her heart and her art reside in Zanesville. She became a part of the Zanesville arts community in 2012. It wasn't until a few years later when Kristen Brown invited her to karaoke at Terry's Tavern that she realized just how much she loved to sing. The August First Friday Art Walk will be her first official performance. Fittingly enough, she will be performing outside of Kristen's art studio at 605 Market Street Suite 1 from 5 to 8pm. Her taste in music is extremely eclectic, but her favorite genres to sing are Country, Hard Rock, and Pop. She will be joined by singer, songwriter, and guitarist Randy L. Six. Randy is from the Zanesville area, born and raised. He listened to everything as well, but Blues touched his heart. Lexy and Randy are looking forward to collaborating for your entertainment!

Artist of the Month

Lee Casey

My name is Lee Casey and I started out in art like most people as a child. I kept up with art classes through high school. My first art teacher in high school is my friend to this day, Mike Seiler. In addition to high school art classes I also enrolled in an art correspondence course. I continue in art through my mid 20s, I began to travel for work and I left art behind. When I ceased traveling for work I came back home to start a new chapter. I met an artist friend, Carrie Turner and she inspired me to get back into art. I met another artist friend, Diana Wilson that helped push me to continue in art and helped get me into the art community. Meanwhile, I mentored with Mike Seiler for a while. Diana and I shared an art studio in the Masonic Temple. I started my own art business on Instagram Simplee_Art. I build canvases and create my own works. (I have another business on Facebook The Helping Handyman) my goal currently is to understand art better and to create art that is simplistic and that I enjoy and that others might enjoy also.

Julie's ARTery Guest Artist Julie Vansickle

Julie Vansickle was born and raised in Coshocton, Ohio. Her father was a veteran, hair salon owner and stylist and her mother was an art teacher. This gave her a wide exposure to a variety of fine arts and crafts at an early age. Julie's love for art has continued to grow over her lifetime. Her favorite mediums are graphite, acrylic and watercolor paints. She enjoys painting animals, people and landscapes. Julie draws her inspiration from nature and her family. Many of her paintings have personal stories as inspiration (either her own or her clients' stories). Julie and her husband, John, have been married for 39 years. They raised their three kids on their family farm in Adamsville, Ohio and now enjoy eleven grandkids. She just recently started doing paint pouring fluid art and is finding that to be a lot of fun. She has done all sorts of crafts including hand quilting, cross stitching, wood working, jewelry making and has fun creating things out of odds and ends. She sells giclée prints and also does commissioned work. Julie enjoys doing painting parties and teaching others the joy that can be found in creating art.

Frank Fazakas, AKA Frazzie, has been an avid artist since his childhood. Over the past 50+ years, he has dabbled in various mediums including oils, pastels, charcoal, watercolors, acrylics and pencil. Most recently his work has been primarily in acrylics. His technique "alla prima", or painting in one sitting, leads to his spontaneity and impressionistic style. Frank has been involved in various art groups including ZAAP (Zanesville Appalachian Art Project), ArtCoz, SEOWS and an early member of the Coshocton Art Guild. His love for art has provided him an opportunity to assist with art instruction at his winter home in Texas and to offer "sip and paint" opportunities for new artists who may want to try their hands at painting. While in Ohio, Frank has displayed his work at ZAAP, The Muskingum County Library and was the featured artist in September 2021 at the ZAAP Gallery. Frank is honored to be the featured artist at the ZAAP gallery, August, 2022. Some of his original art work is available to purchase and commissions are welcomed, but his true passion is sharing his love for art with fellow artists and friends.

For more information and a more complete catalog of his work please visit his Facebook page- <https://www.facebook.com/artbyFrazzie>
