I hold an MBA in finance and accounting from the Booth School at the University of Chicago. For the past 15 years I have been a community-based volunteer, acted as sole executor of a large complicated estate and an independent computer consultant.

Currently, I act as a consultant to multiple small businesses and homeowners servicing their computer needs. In this capacity, I have been a trouble-shooter for complex issues. This work has included managing IP address issues in retail environments, coordinating multiple hot spots in large areas, providing guidance in the strategic management of businesses with data storage issues and teaching others on how to maximize the usage and maintain their computer systems.

Before leaving the corporate workforce in 2003, I was a fifteen-year employee in the US Pharmaceuticals Group at Pfizer, where I served in multiple positions including corporate control, marketing and systems processing. During this period, Pfizer launched many of its blockbuster drugs including Aricept, Lipitor, Viagra, Zithromax and Zoloft.

As a problem solver, I was able to help Pfizer realize significant savings by retooling the distribution of marketing materials to the Field Force. In addition, I was responsible for creating the Know Your Medicine patient education materials for all of our pharmaceutical products. And with the advent of Direct-to-Consumer marketing in the 1990's, I was responsible for managing the entire consumer experience, from the telephony to fulfillment. In my corporate control role, I worked on financial modeling and budgeting and forecasting with the product groups.

Areas where I can provide the most value to an organization are:

- Supporting and maintaining Computer Systems
- Evaluating and streamlining producer to consumer supply chains
- New product launch including marketing, advertising and distribution
- Strong Quantitative and analytic skills and experience with corporate control
- Excel proficiency
- Experience with small business software

In addition to my MBA, I hold a Bachelor of General Studies from the University of Michigan
