■ Bugle Cruise News

Come Experience the Bingo Bugle's First-Ever "Spring Fling Bingo Cruise"

As many of you are already aware, the Bingo Bugle elected to cancel this year's World Championship Bingo Tournament & Gaming Cruise. “Due to the Covid-19 virus and low participation for this year, we regret that the Bingo Bugle will be canceling the cruise in November as we believe it is in everyone's best interest at this time,” organizers posted on the cruise website.

This is the first time in more than three decades that the Bingo Bugle has had to cancel its cruise and, hopefully, will be the last.

In the meantime, plans are already underway for the 2021 Tournament Cruise, setting sail in October from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida and visiting the Caribbean ports of Half Moon Cay in the Bahamas, Grand Turk, Aruba, and Bonaire.

Now, as a bonus, organizers are adding the first ever Spring Fling Bingo Cruise—a unique and exciting getaway to tide folks over until the World Championship Bingo Tournament & Gaming Cruise returns this fall.

The Spring Fling Bingo Cruise is a five-day west coast cruise to Mexico. Departing April 19, 2021 from New Orleans, Louisiana (an amazing city worth spending a few days touring prior to the cruise!), the cruise will visit the gorgeous Mexican ports of Cozumel and Progreso. Between stops, players will enjoy 60 games of marathon Bingo, culminating in awarding a coverall grand prize: a balcony cabin for two on the fall '21 World Championship Bingo Tournament & Gaming Cruise.

Seating is limited so be sure to phone the Bingo Bugle Cruise Hotline (888-352-2464) or visit us online (bingobugle.com/cruise) right away to learn more about the 2021 Spring Fling Bingo Cruise departing in April and the World Championship Bingo Tournament & Gaming Cruise departing in October. It's double the adventure, double the Bingo, and double the fun!

Lucky Lotto News

Mystery Winner in Michigan

A 57-year-old man from Eastpointe, Michigan, a suburb of Detroit, was given the wrong lottery ticket. But there was no mistake about the result: a $2 million winner. The Michigan Lottery says the man, who asked that his name not be released, stopped at a convenience store/gas station to put air in one of his tires. He needed change for the air machine and went inside to the cashier. While there he also asked for a $10 Lucky 7's scratch-off ticket. “The clerk handed me the $20 ticket by mistake,” the man said. “(The clerk) offered to exchange it, but something told me to keep it. I am sure glad I did!” The winner chose to take a lump sum award of roughly $1.3 million.

Illinois' Booming Bucks

The Illinois Lottery has announced its newest instant ticket, Booming Bucks, which raises funds specifically for science, technology, engineering, art and math programs in Illinois public schools. It is the first lottery in the country to have an instant ticket that specifically supports these types of programming. The Booming Bucks ticket costs $2 and gives players the chance to win up to $20,000. The specialty ticket is one of nine in the Illinois Lottery's portfolio of instant tickets that support special causes. Since 2006, the Illinois Lottery has directed more than $50 million through specialty ticket sales.

Northern Lights Bingo Hall Coming Nov. 1!

The former Pot O' Gold Bingo Hall has now found new life as “Northern Lights Bingo.” Located at 3776 Connelly Ave. in Arden Hills, the Bingo hall didn't remain closed for long. After a few months of shuttered doors and empty hall activity, the hall will reemerge once again with the bustling sights and sounds of bingo happenings. The new hall's charitable organization will be MN Fastpitch (softball). You can expect several changes to the old hall, including the front entrance and a new concession, the Bright Side Cafe. The new bingo hall manager, Julie, will be forwarding more hall news as it becomes available. So mark your calendars for Nov. 1 and come out and support this wonderful new venue. We'll see you there!

Royals Call Bingo in Cardiff

During the coronavirus pandemic, Great Britain’s Prince William and Duchess Kate Middleton have spent time paying virtual visits to healthcare facilities throughout the United Kingdom, thanking workers on behalf of the royal family. At one nursing home in particular—Shire Hall in Cardiff, Wales—the royal couple not only chatted with staff, but also pulled out a wire Bingo cage and called the numbers for a group of enthusiastic Bingo-playing residents. A video of the event is posted on YouTube: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=4QsXBzMLT7I>

Virtual Bingo Wellness Event

Online get-togethers continue to be the name of the game as Covid-19 restrictions remain in place. NorthLakes Community Clinic in Ashland, Wisconsin, for example, held a health-oriented Bingo game online this summer. The clinic created the online Bingo so that staff members could connect with patients and communities, encourage wellness and have fun. Players downloaded Bingo cards from a website. The squares on the cards followed a wellness theme, with challenges such as “walked five days in a row,” “meditated,” or “brushed and flossed.” Winning Bingo cards were submitted to the clinic online and by mail. A prize drawing was held during National Health Center Week.

The American Legion Needs Your Help

I came across an unusual confab outside the coffee shop today. What was different this time was the presence of younger veterans. “We’ll help you,” a young vet said to the group. “All you have to do is contact us and we’ll be here. Or there. Or wherever you are.” I pieced together what was going on. The senior veterans were concerned about being able to form a funeral detail. One of their group was in the hospital and it wasn’t looking good, either for the veteran or the local American Legion Post itself. The younger veterans, probably Sandbox era, had come down to offer assistance (and home phone

Louisiana Diners Bite into Bingo

EatLafayette is a summer dining campaign that encourages people to support local eateries in Lafavette, Louisiana, from June to September. More than 100 local restaurants participate in EatLafayette, offering discounts to better compete with chain restaurants. This year, organizers introduced Feed the Envie Bingo to further bolster participation in EatLafayette. (Envie is a French term for an extreme desire or craving for something, usually food.) A printable Bingo card was made available with three entry levels: Across/Down (5 restaurants), Letter L (10 restaurants) or Blackout (25 restaurants). Completed cards with receipts of purchases of $10 or more, and one $20 purchase for Blackout participants, were submitted to receive a prize and be entered to win a grand prize.

Bingo Tourism Iowa

Residents of, and visitors to, the Winneshiek County, Iowa region were encouraged to take in the sights courtesy of the Decorah, Iowa newspaper, Driftless Journal, and its featured game—Driftless Journeys Bingo—and earn a complementary commemorative Driftless Journeys T-shirt and prize drawing entry. To play, participants took a selfie visiting locations or completing actions on the Bingo card. Players scored Bingo by completing five squares in a row and emailing the five photos corresponding to the Bingo squares. Players could also get a Blackout by completing all 25 squares, earning them a T-shirt along with five entries in a drawing for prizes from the Driftless Journal and local partners.

numbers) should they be needed for a funeral. I stepped up next to the one who seemed to be in charge and went into my spiel. “Join the American Legion here in town,” I suggested. I explained that senior veterans make up the biggest percentage of membership in the American Legion nationwide. And they’re not getting younger. Day by day we lose more of them. Maybe a Post will have 20 members... on paper... but only three are active. They’re physically unable to pull off most of the fundraising events like they used to, and many Posts are likely to lose their meeting facility. Therefore, I finished, if young blood doesn’t come in and beef up declining membership, the groups would disband, gone forever. Is this the situation in your area, Legions closing and disbanding due to declining membership? Here’s a thought: Go to a couple meetings. Find out what the Legion can do for you and your family, and what you can do for the it. It might be more than you ever imagined. Visit legion.org for details.

Manners Everyone!

Dear Aunt Bingo:

I know your column is usually about the business of Bingo, but I want to weigh in on the etiquette of Bingo—specifically, the lack of manners by certain players.

I am sure there is no place in the Bingo regulations that says it is OK for players to come to Bingo and behave like rude pigs! But they do! Spilling food all over the tables and floor, tossing their used Bingo paper anywhere they like, bumping into people who are either standing in line or sitting in their chairs and not apologizing, wearing enough perfume to kill a swarm of mosquitos—this is just a sample off the top of my head of behaviors I see week after week.

Let me add a few more:
body odor, soiling the restroom toilets (and floor!); belching and passing gas as if no one notices or minds; loud talking, laughing and arguing, particularly during the games; cell phones vibrating and ringing...I would love to keep going but I do not think there is enough room in your newspaper for the whole list!

At this point I am sure you are rolling your eyes and thinking of me as some kind of a prissy prude. I am not! I am a normal person with a family and friends and a busy social, work and church life.

But I am also a person who was raised with basic manners and an understanding that when in public situations, a person should behave with a certain level of decorum and expect the same from those around them.

What has triggered the “last straw” and made me write to you? This very afternoon while attending Bingo I was seated with my Bingo friends when a woman walked past us in the aisle behind me and passed gas!

It was a pretty full hall and the tables she was walking between had at least eight people seated there and we ALL heard it! Next, of course, we all SMELLED it! I can't believe someone didn't vomit!

We were all very vocal about the disgusting display and made sure the woman who did it knew it, but she never looked back or even apologized. Who behaves like this? Animals, that's who!

Please publish my letter and wake people up to the fact that all this bad behavior is just unacceptable. — Clean it Up in Colorado

Dear Clean:

Sorry, girl, but it sounds like you play Bingo in a barn!

I'll admit that over the years I've had run-ins with my share of discourteous people—at Bingo and elsewhere—but it has never gotten so bad that I felt the need to begin a list.

Still, it never hurts to share a letter like yours as a reminder that we all need to be thoughtful to those around us—particularly during this covid-19 pandemic when courteous social distancing has become so fundamental to our health and wellbeing.

Wearing facemasks and keeping six-feet-plus away from others has been a valuable reminder that it isn't just about you, it's about everyone.

As we slowly and cautiously return to Bingo halls, casinos and other gaming establishments, let's not just keep social distancing in mind, but all forms of player courtesy as well. — Aunt Bingo

Horoscopes
for September
2020

ARIES (MAR 21-APR 20): Use this month to build a reserve of fuel to launch into October with your eye on a particular prize. Accomplishing this goal will take all that you've got, but the rewards will be amazing. The new Moon on 17th gives you insights on a niggling health matter, if needed, consult a professional.
Lucky Days: 5 - 13
Lucky Numbers: 45 - 46

TAURUS (APR 21-MAY 21): Relationships are so beguiling, especially this month, because we have no control over their origin or outcome. Pascal told us: "The heart has its reasons which reason knows nothing of." That's a quote worth crocheting. But his end to that quote is important too: "We know the truth not only by reason, but by the heart."
Lucky Days: 4 - 12
Lucky Numbers: 9 - 50

GEMINI (MAY 22-JUN 21): Regardless the method, this month requires that you bring more symmetry and beauty into your life. Your muse is calling, make time to hear her song. Inspiration should be applied both at work and at home, you need a palpable sense of how harmony and aesthetics touches all aspects of your life. The new Moon on the 17th finds you particularly lucky.
Lucky Days: 15 - 23
Lucky Numbers: 34 - 46

CANCER (JUN 22-JUL 22): Venus in your money house gets a surprising jolt the first week in September. This could be a windfall that you weren't expecting or uplifting praise and recognition from your community of peers. You're feeling generous and loved, but also rambunctious and ready to fight. Those two states need not be exclusive of one another.

Lucky Days: 9 - 26
Lucky Numbers: 32 - 57

LEO (JUL 23-AUG 23): Venus in your Sun sign graces you with inspiration. This can show up through self-improvement (attention to diet and exercise) but also in aesthetics too, where you feel like an ambassador for beauty. Save some of this charm to woo opportunities on the job front. You're a lightning rod for exciting ideas right now and people want to hear about them.
Lucky Days: 22 - 24
Lucky Numbers: 2 - 6

VIRGO (AUG 24-SEP 23): I'd like you to pause during the new Moon on the 17th and consider all of the ways you've offered assistance and inspiration to those closest to you. Of all the signs you are the one that will step up to the plate to take on tasks that others consider menial or minor. But it's the small gestures that accrue into major accomplishments. You deserve this acknowledgment, so claim it.
Lucky Days: 17 - 22
Lucky Numbers: 4 - 54

LIBRA (SEP 24-OCT 23): You need to spend some time working on the best ways to get your ideas across to the people that you need to impress. You're feeling urgent about communication but also blocked in the ways of persuasion. Here's a secret: make it seem like it's the other person's idea. Also, ask for favors. That request will change the dynamic in ways that will surprise you.
Lucky Days: 8 - 29
Lucky Numbers: 21 - 29

SCORPIO (OCT 24-NOV 22): The new Moon lands in your house of hopes and wishes. I bet you can relate to this news because throughout the summer you've been incubating radical plans about outreach (how to best influence groups of people with mutual interests). This is a good time to firm up a commitment to join a club or organization that can offer support to your hobbies or politics.
Lucky Days: 9 - 20
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 14

SAGITTARIUS (NOV 23-DEC 21): Take to heart this wisdom from the author Jim Rohn: "Money is usually attracted, not pursued." It's time for you to revamp outdated ideas about not just finances but what you value most in life at this time. When your heart decrees its goal the universe starts to funnel support and resources in that direction. Aim true!

Lucky Days: 7 - 10
Lucky Numbers: 3 - 5

CAPRICORN (DEC 22-JAN 20): We usually think of dramatic events as singular and disconnected from life's easier pace, but as you are most definitely discovering, life is continually transforming and rearranging, moment by moment. As Heraclitus told us: "No one ever steps in the same river twice, for it's not the same river and he's not the same man."
Lucky Days: 22 - 28
Lucky Numbers: 8 - 19

AQUARIUS (JAN 21-FEB 19): Take note of the new Moon on the 17th. A new cycle commences, prompting you to discard and remove from your life what is no longer of worth. This could be literal, as in a deep clean of a cluttered closet, or figurative, where people or habits that you engage with regularly no longer feel supportive or viable. Learn to let go with grace and support your soul's desire for rebirth.
Lucky Days: 7 - 18
Lucky Numbers: 17 - 48

PISCES (FEB 20-MAR 20): If you've ever put stock in the ancient notion of the muses, this is the month to put your belief to the test. With Neptune acting as a creative antenna in your first house of self-expression you're tuning into frequencies that are, literally, out of this world. See if you can instill some of this divine energy into your intimate relationships and share the muse's transmission within your inner circle.
Lucky Days: 17 - 24
Lucky Numbers: 4 - 40

Cash AND Prizes?

Hi Guy,
Obviously, money is the best Bingo prize there is, but I wonder why Bingos don't add a few extra games and offer some non-cash prizes. It could add more fun to the games by letting us play more Bingo, and I think this could make for more of a carnival atmosphere knowing that when you go to Bingo you could come home with $500, but you could also walk away with a coffeemaker, a quilt, a set of towels, or other things.
I started thinking about this idea a while ago when I went to the state fair. Our state fair has a big area where you can play games of chance and win prizes. Among these games is one where you compete with other players by tossing rubber balls into individual boxed grids and try to get a row of balls before anyone else. If you are the first one to get a row, you win a ticket which you can take to a large prize display and select a prize. If you win multiple times and collect several tickets, you can choose even bigger prizes.

How great would it be to be able to win prizes this way not just once a year during the fair, but every time you went to Bingo? I think it would give Bingo a homier feel, and maybe be like Bingo probably was back in its early days.
I think it would change the dynamic of the competition for prizes, too. Cash prize after cash prize is so routine. But bring up a beautiful, handmade one-of-a-kind quilt sewn by a group of church ladies, and let the battle begin! — Thom G., New York

Hi Thom,
If it's all the same to you, I'll take the cash.
I get what you're driving at—remembering the good ol' days when you could buy something at an auction for a quarter or win a drawing prize with a nickel ticket—but I think most people would just as soon take the $500 jackpot and go buy a quilt at the next church bazaar.
I've actually played the rubber-balls-in-a-row game you're talking about, and still use the set of wood-handled steak knives I got with my winning ticket. But the thought of buying into a Bingo session and watching the cash prizes come and go, then to finally get a Bingo of my own only to win a stupid set of steak knives, well, I'd probably stab one of those knives into the nearest wall.
Depending on where you play Bingo, there's already plenty of gift baskets, door prizes and raffles you can buy into without mixing them in with cash-pot Bingo. I say, let's cut out the middleman, stay with cash jackpots and spend that money on anything your heart desires...which will probably be more Bingo. — Guy

Get Out and Grill

Dear Annie,
I am sure I am not the only one tired of staying home. I am able to barbecue in the backyard and invite my parents over for dinner following "social distancing" rules. Can you make a suggestion for a new recipe? Thanks. —Rosemary from Johnson City, Tennessee

Dear Rosemary,
Here's a recipe for Grilled Peppers Stuffed with Eggplant that I found in one of my grilling books. I am going to make it also. Stay safe and healthy! — Annie

GRILLED PEPPERS STUFFED WITH EGGPLANT
1 medium sized eggplant, peeled salt

¼ cup olive oil
1 cup breadcrumbs
2 garlic cloves
½ cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese
¼ cup pine nuts
¼ cup chopped fresh Italian parsley
1 tablespoon chopped herbs, such as basil, thyme or oregano
1 egg, beaten
6 red, yellow or orange bell peppers
Mince the garlic cloves to a paste with a pinch of salt and set aside. Slice the eggplant into ¼-inch thick slices. Salt lightly and set aside on paper towels to drain for 30 minutes. Rinse lightly and pat dry. Chop coarsely. In a large skillet, heat the oil and sauté the eggplant over high heat until browned and tender, approximately 5 minutes. Chop the cooked eggplant and combine it with the breadcrumbs, garlic paste, Parmesan cheese, pine nuts, parsley and herbs in a bowl. Add the beaten egg and mix well. Cut the tops off the peppers and remove and discard the seeds and whitish core from both the tops and from inside the peppers. Reserve the tops. Stuff the eggplant mixture loosely into the peppers. Secure the tops to the peppers with toothpicks. Cook the peppers in a covered grill over a medium-hot to low fire for 1 hour, turning occasionally. Serves 6.

Poker Talk

Don't Be Afraid to Go All In

By Jonathan Little

Sometimes in poker, your opponents will let you win a hand that you have no business winning. This hand is from a $1,500-buy-in tournament I played not long ago. With blinds at 300-600 plus a big blind ante of 600, a player who had been fairly aggressive from late position raised to 1,600 out of his 35,000 stack from the cutoff. A loose, passive player called from the button. Sitting in the big blind, I decided to three-bet to 6,600 as a bluff with Qs 10c.

Playing out of position with a hand such as Q-10, three-betting is almost always a better play than calling, because when you call, you have to hit the flop in order to win unless you happen to run a huge bluff postflop. When you three-bet, you give yourself the chance to win preflop as well as postflop whether or not you connect with the board.

Both of my opponents called, which was not ideal. The flop came Kc Qh 4h.

I bet 7,200 into a pot of 20,700. My plan was to take a cheap stab at the pot and fold if either player pushed all in. If either player called, I was going to check the turn unless I improved my hand.

The initial raiser called, and the button folded. In this situation, I would generally expect my opponent to show up with a king, J-10 or maybe a hand such as Q-J. I'm in bad shape against most of that range, which means I should give up on the pot.

The turn was the beautiful 10s. Since the initial raiser had only 20,000 in chips left and there was already 35,100 in the pot, I decided to go all in. I didn't see how he could fold any hand he called with on the flop, as even J-10 would give him a pair, and he would now be getting decent odds.

He instantly called with Ah Qc. The river blanked, and I ended up winning a nice pot.

If my opponent had gone all in preflop or postflop, he would have forced me off my hand and picked up a nice pot with no risk of going broke. Instead, he allowed me and the button to see a cheap flop, which gave both of us a chance to outdraw him.

I'm all for letting your opponents stay in when they are drawing to three outs. But when the pot is large preflop and you have a hand that is decently strong, you should almost always try to pick it up.

If the flop had been K 9 4 instead of K Q 4, I would have made the same continuation bet and probably would have forced my opponent off his A-Q. My opponent managed to turn a profitable preflop all-in opportunity, which would have let him pick up a decent-sized pot with little risk, into a disaster where he went broke.

Putting yourself into simple spots in tournaments is a way to avoid trouble, and in this spot my opponent did the exact opposite. When you have a strong hand in a tournament and there is a lot of money in the pot preflop, don't be afraid to take a little risk and go all in.

BUGLE SUDOKU

by Linda Thistle

Place a number in the empty boxes in such a way that each row across, each column down and each small 9-box square contains all of the numbers from one to nine.

DIFFICULTY THIS WEEK: ♦

- ♦ Moderate
- ♦♦ Challenging
- ♦♦♦ HOO BOY!

JUMBLE

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.

THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME

by David L. Hoyt and Jeff Knurek

We've named our apartments with trigonometric terms. Here are the Sine and Cosine buildings.

I don't get it.

THE NEW APARTMENT BUILDINGS WERE VERY CONFUSING. IT WAS A $\frac{8}{12}$

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as suggested by the above cartoon.
