

God has given us a blueprint on how we should think, speak, act and live. From God's perspective, there are certain things that simply do not go together. For example - Oil & Water: it doesn't matter how long one is with the other, these two properties will always be separate.

Paul is telling us in verse seven that for us to receive God's peace that passes all human understanding, we must turn our hearts and minds to this scripture above. We are to let go of negative, erroneous, prideful, selfish and stinking thinking that exists within us. We cannot expect to receive God's peace and still harbor these spiritual hindrances at the same time; these do not go together.

If you feel challenged in some way, then let go of these burdens, give them to the Lord. Also, please forgive the individual(s) that you believe has wronged you so that God blesses you with the peace and love of Christ. Have a great day in the Lord today, and everyday! And be blessed, to be a blessing to others!
