The History Museum, originally a Masonic Temple, was built in 1923. Egyptian and medieval motifs can be found in every room and gallery throughout the building. The museum's architectural style, Norman Revival, creates the illusion of a mysterious castle.

Since 1872, our extensive local history collections on diverse subjects make the Museum your source for Appleton & Fox Valley history. Perhaps best known for collections relating to Erich Weiss, aka Houdini, the Museum also holds objects and archival material on the fur trade, Appleton in the 19th and 20th centuries, hydroelectricity, papermaking, WWII and more.

The mission of the History Museum at the Castle is to inspire in people of all ages an appreciation of the rich history of the Fox Valley through exhibition, education and collection. We are here to help people of the Fox Valley make sense of a changing world.
