

Phyllis Moore

Phyllis Moore has been speaking in women's conferences and retreats for over 25 years. She began her ministry teaching in her local church home and continued when the family moved to Euless, Texas, where she taught a Bible class at First Baptist Church Euless when Dr. James Draper was pastor. For more than 7 years the Lord expanded her ministry as she led "Ladies-only" Bible studies while traveling with her husband, revivalist Jon Moore. More recently, she traveled with Barbara O'Chester, Director of the Great Hills Retreat Ministries out of Austin, Texas, for 15 years until that ministry was retired. She now leads retreats and conferences in local churches and associations. She is also an artist and bronze sculptor.

She has a deep and abiding hunger for the Lord and His Word. Her compassion stems from a life of varied experiences such as depression, illness, being a mother, grandmother, and minister's wife, but having always found God to be "faithful!" She has an encouraging, and yet challenging message for women today.

Ladies,

We are so looking forward to this retreat and the time to be able to spend with each of you. If you have never been to Round Top Retreat Center, you are in for a treat!

I'm excited about Phyllis Moore being back with us this year. She has been in prayer for several months now seeking the Lord on the message He has for us. Absolute Surrender – this is not surrender to captivity but surrender to freedom, peace and fulfillment in Christ. Absolute surrender is truly the only way to walk in pure joy and victory.

We are praying and believing that these few days will be a time of refreshment and encouragement. No matter what you may be going through currently, God has placed a very sincere message just for you in the heart of our speaker.

One last thing ... begin NOW preparing your heart. Come ready for worship and to receive ALL the Lord has prepared for you.

I can't wait to see you there!
