

A observation is coming... now what?

Transformation Through Education,
Collaboration and Innovation

Book Your Training Today

Cathy S. Tooley
Tools for Success

www.cathytooley.com

info@cathytooley.com

317-961-1205

TOOLS FOR Success

With the ever changing evaluation, observation, classroom walk through, pop in visits, formal and informal observations etc., etc., teachers are often LOST in definition. This professional development segment deconstructs the evaluation process utilized by school district to ensure complete understanding and compliance. In addition, teachers will gain “tools” to assist them in understanding and elevating themselves to the requirements defined as “highly effective.”

Topics to be discussed:

- A deep dive into the evaluation tool and what it means.
- A breakdown of what each indicator looks like in the classroom.
- How to communicate with your evaluator in a manner that promotes growth and learning before during and after the observation/evaluation.
- What to expect when you have never been evaluated.
- How to look at the testing piece of your rubric
- What do bring and how to plan for you pre observation and post observation.
- What questions to make sure you ask for a successful evaluation.

Key Take a ways:

- A deeper understanding of the evaluation system.
- A collaborative communication between evaluator and teacher.
- A clear plan for an observation.
- How to communicate and grow from all evaluations.
- How to communicate with the evaluator that promotes growth and learning for all students.
- How to handle a “bad” evaluation.
- How to seek out assistance if necessary and what that looks like.
- How to diversify the assistance you seek.

We customize our packages for each individual school district based upon their needs, their wants and their challenges.

Please call today for your complementary consultation.