

Tamara Phillips was in and out of the infirmary all the time. The last time I saw her alive she was coming back from outside medical. The nurses were scared because she had Mersa in her lungs and they had to go in her isolation cell to give her insulin.