

Christine Plambeck

Competitive & Recreational Instructor

Christine Plambeck danced for 14 years at a studio in New Prague, MN, competing and performing in styles including tap, ballet, jazz, lyrical, musical theatre, and Pointe. She attended Saint Cloud State University and was a member of the SCSU Dance Team for four years, while earning her Bachelor of Science in Finance and a minor in Economics. During those four years, she had the opportunity to perform at multiple football, basketball and hockey games, in addition the UDA/UCA National Championships that are broadcast on ESPN. Christine taught for fifteen years in New Prague, and started the New Prague Trojan Dance Team, where she coached from 2009-2017.

She has attended several conventions and studied under choreographers such as Mia Michaels, Wade Robson, Chris Judd, Dave Scott and Brian Friedman, and has also had the opportunity to judge many try-outs, including Maple Grove High School Dance Team tryouts and SCSU Dance Team tryouts.

Christine and her husband Jerry live in Lakeville with daughters Alexis, Kylie, Emily and Clara.